Hughes is what some have called a nature poet. A keen countryman and hunter from a young age, he viewed writing poems as a continuation of his earlier passion. 'This is hunting and the poem is a new species of creature, a new specimen of the life outside your own.' (Poetry in the Making, 1967) _Hughes and Plath_.

One of the giants of 20th century British poetry, Ted Hughes was born in Mytholmroyd, Yorkshire in 1930. After serving as in the Royal Air Force, Hughes attended Cambridge, where he studied archeology and anthropology, taking a special interest in myths and legends. In 1956 he met and married the American poet Sylvia Plath, who encouraged him to submit his manuscript to a first book contest run by The Poetry Center.

Ted Hughes the poet vs. Ted Hughes the husband and the man has literally filled pages of books. My review is certainly not based on Hughes the person, but Hughes the poet. In all honesty, based on much that I've read about Hughes, I believe he was a greatly flawed human who should have never married.
